

RUBY WALSH

RUBY'S RED HOTS

TUESDAY, MARCH 13TH - CHAMPION HURDLE DAY

SUPREME NOVICES' HURDLE

Obviously Kalashnikov sets a fair level of form. Summerville Boy is a decent horse as well. But we like Getabird.

ARKLE CHASE

Nicky Henderson is raving about Brain Power and his home work, but Footpad's a great ride and he's in good order. I wouldn't swap him.

ULTIMA HANDICAP CHASE

It's a competitive handicap, Singlefarmpayment ran in the race last year but if they go really hard here and the ground is soft, Beware the Bear could run a big race at a big price.

CHAMPION HURDLE

Faugheen could make a race of it, but Buveur D'Air's going to be hard to beat whatever way you look at it. His form is rock solid.

MARES HURDLE

Apple's Jade is very good. She'll be hard to beat. But she'll have to take a run and it's a very competitive race.

NATIONAL HUNT CHASE

I think Rathvinden is tailor-made for this. He's a lot of experience under his belt and if he was to come back to his run in the Drinmore he'll be bang there.

CLOSE BROTHERS NOVICE HANDICAP

Ruby Walsh Going through De Plotting Shed's hurdle ratings he's much lower over fences. It's a while since he's won a race but theoretically he could be well in.
